CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

- Advancing Cancer Science with a Focus on Breast Cancer: From Discovery to Care
- Advance understanding of cancer biology, progression, metastasis and risk factors.
- Showcase advances in genetics, multi-omics, biomarkers and precision oncology.
- Explore innovations in prevention, screening, imaging and early detection.
- Highlight emerging targeted therapies, immunotherapy and management of aggressive cancers, with focus on TNBC, HER2-positive and metastatic breast cancer.
- Explore AI, machine learning and computational approaches across cancer research and care.
- Bridge basic, translational and clinical research, addressing unmet needs, research gaps and future priorities.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Established in 1948, the University of Kashmir is a premier public university located on the banks of world famous Dal Lake in Srinagar. Accredited NAAC A++, signifying the highest standards of academic quality and institutional excellence, it ranks 34th among Universities, 8th among State Public Universities and 59th Overall in NIRF 2025 ranking. The University comprises of 10 academic Schools, numerous teaching departments and research centres, with satellite campuses at Zakura, Anantnag (South Campus), Baramulla (North Campus) and Kupwara (South Campus). Supported by a wide network of affiliated 209 colleges and a vibrant student community, the University fosters multidisciplinary education, high-quality research, innovation and societal engagement through modern academic and research infrastructure.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Bioresources is multidisciplinary in nature, committed to excellence in teaching and interdisciplinary research addressing human health and agricultural challenges. Its research spans cancer biology, molecular medicine, microbiology and plant sciences, with emphasis on understanding disease mechanisms, developing translational solutions, and mitigating toxicity concerns in agricultural produce. A strong culture of advanced research and networking at national and international scientific levels strengthens its contribution to human health, sustainable agriculture and societal well-being.

ABOUT THE KASHMIR

Nestled in the majestic Himalayas, Kashmir is celebrated for its breathtaking landscapes, snow-capped mountains, pristine alpine lakes, lush meadows, dense forests, and vibrant cultural heritage. Srinagar, the host city, is renowned for the iconic Dal Lake, enchanting Mughal gardens, traditional houseboats, exquisite handicrafts, and authentic Kashmiri cuisine. Visitors can also explore Gulmarg, famous for one of the world's highest gondola rides and panoramic mountain vistas; Pahalgam, admired for its serene valleys, rivers, and pine forests; and Sonamarg, the gateway to stunning Himalayan peaks and high-altitude adventures. Well connected by air, road, and rail through major Indian cities, Kashmir offers delegates an unforgettable opportunity to combine academic collaboration with rich cultural experiences, warm hospitality, and the unparalleled natural beauty of the Himalayan region.
